

For Immediate Release
September 25, 2006

STARHAVEN SET TO PREMIERE COLLECTION AT JEWELERS INTERNATIONAL SHOWCASE

Dallas, TX – Starhaven will premiere a unique 240-piece collection at the upcoming Jewelers International Showcase (JIS), the largest independent tradeshow in the Western Hemisphere. Now in its 28th year of serving the jewelry industry, this year's show is scheduled for October 21- 24 in Miami, FL and will mark the first showing of the Starhaven Collection at this prestigious industry event.

The Starhaven Collection is designed for the upscale world traveler and is created from an original patented motif by designer Liz Donahue. The motif is evident throughout the collection and affluent in its craftsmanship. Each piece of the vast collection is created as a masterful work of art. The extensive assortment ranges from exotically carved silver to extraordinary pieces accented with solid 18kt gold and radiant gemstones.

Based on buying trends and industry interest, Donahue is currently looking to expand the Starhaven Collection in Florida, the Virgin Islands and the Caribbean.

“The Starhaven collection is perfect for the sophisticated Florida & Caribbean traveler. Each year these travelers are looking to buy new pieces that are bold, unique & gorgeous to wear back from their exotic travels,” says Starhaven designer and CEO, Liz Donahue. “This is why I am implementing great growth plans to be a major designer brand supporting the Florida, Caribbean & Virgin Island retailers.”

Liz Donahue is an artist and graphic designer who has channeled almost 18 years of personal and professional design experience to launch her own distinct jewelry collection, Starhaven. To schedule an appointment or for additional information about the Starhaven Collection, please contact Liz Donahue at 972-819-2030 or log on to www.starhavenusa.com. Visit Starhaven at JIS in Miami at Booth 2618.